NASHVILLE, Tenn. - Crews are working Monday to recover the wreckage of a helicopter that crashed along the Cumberland River earlier this month.

Sumner County emergency managers said an underwater camera spotted the chopper's wreckage deep under the water on Sunday afternoon.

Pilot Robert Koudelka's helicopter went down on a flight between Lebanon and Nashville two weeks ago. Search crews found his body last week.

A representative for Koudelka's family said a memorial is planned at Lebanon Municipal Airport Nov. 23 on what would have been his 44th birthday.
